

Abstract of the Disclosure:

A diagnostic method and system for a technical installation establish the cause of a fault event. A reliable, flexible
5 and simple possible way of diagnosing an installation is provided by placing state variables that characterize an operating state of the technical installation in a dependency tree and establishing a fault path in the dependency tree by linking change directions of diagnostic parameters contained
10 in the independency tree.

15

20

LAG/cp